COX REPLIES TO 31 PRO-LEAGUERS BACKING HARDING

Democrat Insists on Holding G. O. P. Nominee to "Staying Out" Declaration in Des Moines Address.

DETROIT, Mich. Cet. 16.—Gov. ox of Ohio, Democratic presidential candidate, appounced here last night that his campaign would be fought squarely upon the league of nations ssue, as drawn by Senator Harding his Republican opponent, in the lat-ter's Des Moines speech, in which the senator said he favored "staying made in a statement replying to that issued by 31 prominent Republicans headed by Elihu Root, Herbert Hoov er, Henry W. Taft and others claring their support of Senator Hard-

The governor said he did not see how the signers could consistently support Harding. His statement

"The gentlemen say 'the question is whether we shall join an agreement containing the exact provision ne-gotiated by President Wilson or an agreement which omits or modifies some of its provisions. It is to be inferred that anyone who stands for the covenant as adopted with or without reservations is friendy to the league, and that anyone who is against the covenant, with or without reservations, is clearly opposed to the league. Senator Harding, in his Des Moines, speech, said: Gov. Cox favors goiffe into the league and I favor staying out. It is not interpre-tation but rejection I am seeking. I leave the people of America to decide the case just as these gentlemen have presented it. I submit in answer the spoken words of Senator Harding. If these gentlemen do not accept what he has said to the American people, then it is past my understanding how they can, as a matter of ethics, advocate his candidacy.

"If, on the other hand, they do not accept in good faith what he has said, then I can not see how they can, as friends of the league, advocate his candidacy. They attempt to justify their most astonisher positions are the beautiful and the control of the league. ing position on the theory that President Wilson was unbending in his attitude on the league. On the subject, they say, Mr. Wilson insisted upon the agreement absolutely unchanged. These gentlemen, upon reflection must realize that the flection, must realize that this is not justified by the facts."

Citing the reservations offered by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, ad-ministration leader in the treaty contest, Gov. Cox recounted that President Wilson had written Senato Hitchcock stating that he could ac cept reservations "as they stand."

In conclusion Gov. Cox said:
"If things continue as they have been going for the last ten days, it will be a difficult matter to determine whether the people are more amused at Senator Harding himself or at the desperation of his sponsers.

In his speech here last night and also in a half-dozen other cities in Ohio, Gov. Cox continued his league preachments, making them almost preachments, making them almost his sole subject. A feature was a speech at Marion, the home of Sena-tor Harding. Several thousand per-sons there and at other Ohio points, cheered and applauded the candidate. At Marion, however, the governor nade no personal reference to Mr.

Harding, Caustic reply was made by Gov. Cox at Carey, Ohio, to Senator Harding's statement regarding printing charges that there was "a con-spiracy of silence" against the Dem-ocratic cause and that the opposition ocratic cause and that the opposition was not giving the public copies of the league covenant, Gov. Cox said:

"Senator Harding refers to my charge that the Republicans dare not print as a document the covenant of the league of nations in order that the public might read it, by stating that the peace treaty runs into 80,000 words; but, of course, he knows the difference between the treaty and the covenant. The latter stands out separate and alone as distinct as the separate and alone as distinct as the Eighteenth amendment to the consti-tution. The covenant requires less than four columns of space in newspaper, and yet the candidate for the presidency attempts to justify the conspiracy of silence by a clearly implied misrepresentation."

COX ASKS WOMEN DUE SOLELY TO POLITICAL PLAY

Candidate, Urging Participation of New Voters in Nation's Affairs, Suggests They Propose Laws.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 16 .- A national women's congress to frame a program of social legislation and administration for presentation to the president and congress was advo-cated here today by Gov. Cox, Democratic presidential candidate, in addressing an audience of women.

The candidate's address preceded his political speech here and followed a morning of campaigning in which he spoke at Sandusky and Elyria en route here from Detroit. Gov. Cox will remain here over Sunday and tour Northern New York Monday.

Urging larger participation of women in national affairs and citing social legislation enacted during his social legislation enacted during his gubernatorial administration, the gubernatorial administration, the governor told his women auditors at a nonpartisan meeting at a local ho-tel, that there was much to be done for human welfare and social progress. He also championed the league of nations as a measure to protect women and children from the horrors of war.

"From my experience in Ohio," said the governor, 'you may know what to expect when I am elected presi-dent. There is much to be done for human welfare and social progress. We must stamp out disease, oppression and ignorance and eliminate neglect. With woman only at the threshold of political work in America, I can not call upon you for con gressional action but we can work in common purpose with common counsel, and it would seem to me perfectly proper and fitting that a national meeting be called of representatives of every woman's organization In concluding his telegram to Mr. James, Mr. Meyer says: "The war finance corporation should continue to function in the public interest for the benefit of all of the people in all sections of the country. I am replying to your inquiry thus fully because I consider that you and all other public spirited citizens are entitled to the benefit of whatever America to formulate a program for congress and the executive for social legislation and administration."

Pledges Reforms.

Gov. Cox pledged his support to reforms contained in the San Francisco platform, including federal co-operation with the states for protecting infants and to remove illiter-acy. /In this connection he urged establishment of a federal bureau of Americanization to educate aliens. Regarding the bureau of education, lov. Cox said:

"At present the federal bureau of "At present the federal bureau of education is buried with a varied assortment of national business in the department of the interior. My opponent has spoken recently for a new department of public welfare under which to group certain social welfare activities. While I am in hearty accord with the idea of house cleaning, our government departments and sorting out the human from the technical problems. I feel from the technical problems, I feel that we should look forward to giv-ing education and health equal consideration with labor, instead of lumping all social questions again in another grab bag, ill-defined deplat-

In the last congress, Gov, Cox charged, a "baby's bill," providing for maternity and infant care, "waited in vain while reactionary leaders spent their time 'scrapping' the league of nations."

"I am in favor of going into the leasue," he said, "not alone to keep your children from the terrible ex-periences of war, but to enrich their

Then Sell Goods in Marts of Plans for shipping low-grade cot-on from the Mississippi valley to fermany and having it manufactured

Germany and having it manufactured in the latter country on the toll system, have been perfected by Gerald FitzGerald, lawyer and banker of Clarksdale, Miss.

Mr. FitzGerald has already tried the feasibility of the plan on a moderate scale through the medium of the business of a personal corporation which he organized with small capital, and he has received some of the goods manufactured in Germany from lower grade American cotton. The plan succeeded so well and Mr. from lower grade American cotton. The plan succeeded so well and Mr. FitzGerald was so impressed with the possibilities in trade in this channel that he has decided to organize a company with sufficient capital to carry on the business on a scale justified by the large amount of low-grade cotton to be disposed of in the Mississippi and Arkansas deltas, and the ready outlet for goods made from this cotton in the marts of the world.

While the corporation is merely in the initial stages of its organization, Mr. FitzGerald has the names of some of the most prominent finan-ciers and planters in the central valley who are backing his undertaking The new concern will be known as the Mississippi Delta Cotton Export and Trading company. The central office will probably be in Memphis. The plan, briefly, contemplates the organization of a company with a capitalization of $500,000 to act as agent of shippers of cotton to Germany. It is expected that nearly, if not quite, all these shippers will be either growers or factors. The capitalization is thought to be large enough to handle 250,000 bales of cotton at one time, and of course, by operating continuously the turnover will be sufficient to take care of all cotton which may be offered during

All low-grade cotton offered will be shipped to Germany to be manu-factured into yarns and cloth. The mill operators will be allowed to remill operators will be allowed to re-tain a mertain part of the finished product as their toll for the work of manufacture. The remainder, still the property of the shipper, will be sold in the markets of the Orient, Southern Europe, South America and any other marts where this class of goods may be in demand. Incident-ally, Mr. FitzGerald stated that there goods may be in demand. Incident-ally, Mr. FitzGerald stated that there is at the moment a good demand in the United States for German full fashioned hosiery, but that the heavy duty of 20 per cent for import into this country would probably make it more profitable to sell their product elsewhere.

Mr. Fitzgerald stated that he already had agreements with 54 mills in Czecho Slovakia and Germany to manufacture American low-grade cotton on the proposed basis. He also has established selling agencies in various parts of the Orient, Southin various parts of the Orient, South-ern Europe and South America, and has made financial connections in New York and foreign centers. The company will act as agent for anyone wishing to ship low-grade cotton to Germany and will handle the transaction throughout all the stages of shipment, manufacture and sale of the finished product for the sale of the finished product for the shipper, using its capital to cover reight, insurance and other charges Mr. FitzGerald stated that he be-lieved that fully 2,000,000 bales of low-grade cotton could be disposed of to Garmany in this of to Germany in this manner, greatly to the advantage of both the Germans, who need the raw material, and the growers and factors in this country, who are heavily burdened with a hig supply of low-grade stuff for which there is little or no demand for which there is little or no demand in the United States.

Some of the profilment men backing the undertaking are: W. P. Holland, president of the Planters bank, Clarksdale, Miss.; R. N. McWilliams, president of the Delta Bank and Trust Co., Clarksdale; J. O. Lamkin, president of the Commercial bank, Clarksdale; Senator LeRoy Percy, Greenville; W. P. Kretschmar, president Commercial Savings bank, Greenville; George T. Webb, cotton factor, Memphis, Tenn.; W. A. Gage. factor, Memphis, Tenn.; W. A. Gage, cotton factor, Memphis; L. Sternberger, cotton factor, Memphis; G. T. Fitzhugh, lawyer, Memphis, and a score of others.
